Facts and Thankfulness
The Bishop's Warning
We Are Not So Sick
100,000 Ethiopians

PRESIDENT HOOVER'S excellent Thanksgiving proclamation might well be taken as a model. Free from the usual platitudes, it recognizes common sense as they are with-out mouthing over them and finds blessings for which every decent man should be grateful. Science has enriched and enlarged our control of nature. Education has been further extended. We have made gains in the prevention of disease and in the protection of childhood. These things are far more important than temporary stock prices.

The archbishop of Prague warns the world "the time is ripe for revolution." If the danger is not speedily recognized the world will be enveloped in flames. The good archbishop blames organized capital, to which he attributes "superstition under which Catholics suffer as much as Socialists. Our epoch is one of equanim proceeding a collapse."

There is some comfort, however, in the knowledge that the "superstition" under capital is not so hard to bear, at least, in America, with its many bathubs, 25,000,000 automobiles, radios, etc.

Everything is comparative. When the feeble Emperor Napoleon III started to fight Bismarck and Von Moltke in 1870, thousands of French soldiers lacked shoes.

Before the French Revolution, which wiped out government by royalty, clergy and nobility, 90 per cent of the people were actually half starved. It had been necessary to pass a law against eating the bodies of those killed by the plague. The government by king, church and nobles used to be compared with government by organized "capital" read Taine's Ancient Rome. There are things worse than organized capital.

If we would only just stop crying, wipe our little eyes and look around things would not look so black.

Men who understand conditions tell you that the next 10 years will see the greatest increase in trade and industry that this nation has ever known.

In 1929 the value of products manufactured in the United States was sixty-eight and half billion dollars.

And the signs of improvement are not 10 years away. For example, for the year period of 1930, each period being one-thirtieth of the year, shows a business of $54,583,165, a gain of almost two million dollars over the 1930 period.

A country in which one retail concern does a business of $54,583,165 and another a business of a billion is not exactly an expiring country.

One hundred thousand savage, black Ethiopian warriors, barbed chiefs and their followers from the desert and the mountains formed a magnificent spectacle as they galloped to the outer throne of their Emperor Haile Selassie, prostrated themselves in the dust before him, vowing to protect him against all enemies, then mounted their horses and galloped off.

Manes and hides of lions strewn from their shoulders and disease himself were a lion's mane.

Neatly dressed French officers, looking on as an streaming, horsemen thundered past, must have smiled inwardly, saying to themselves what a great Frenchman said long ago: "C'est bon, mais c'est pas la guerre." "It is fine, but it is not war."

A few dozen bombing and gas planes of which France has thousands would soon drive the warriors of the Ethiopian mass and send them all to the Abyssinian department in heaven.

For a counter supposed by our best minds, to be headed for the rocks and rapids of disaster, seems to pass a strange figure for scarier than those best minds out of their senses.

Washington, Nov. 8 (AP)—President Hoover will ask Congress to make "a special emergency appropriation" for public projects and relief of unemployment, he announced today.

It was stated at the White House the request would be made in his first message to Congress when it convenes December 4.

The cash will ask is to be of $200,000,000 already appropriated and will run government expenditures to a figure unprecedented except during the World War.

The White House announcement follows:

"The President announced today that the administration had decided to recommend to Congress a special emergency appropriation to be applied to the further intensification of public works, public buildings, and other federal construction which are already authorized by Congress."

but for which no appropriations would normally be made until the next session of Congress, and to recommend the provisions of a "red hump" assistance to farmers on the drought area.

EXCEEDS $200,000,000

It will be remembered that the appropriations for federal construction were greatly increased by the last Congress as an aid to employment during the current year.

The necessary technical preparation for the program was made some months ago and has now been advanced so that the program can be put into effect for emergency purposes.

The whole purpose is to provide employment during the forthcoming year upon works of ultimate necessity.

PLANS MISSISSIPPI WORK

At the President will ask Congress to start a large-scale development of the Mississippi river valley, a plan which will run into the hundreds of millions of dollars.

The immediate development of the Mississippi river valley is the southwest river states instead of the north river states, as was the case in the past.

CARELESS DRIVER SUES SELF FOR CAUSING DEATH OF WIFE

Rochester, N. Y. (AP)—ALEXANDER, THAT his own careless driving was the cause of his wife's death, today sued himself for $10,000 damages.

The case, brought by the estate of the late Mrs. Alexander, was heard today in the Rochester city court.

REV. A. TYLER, BABY AND HER NURSE KILLED IN BRAZIL WAR

Wife of Dead Churchman Wounded in Fighting in Jurniers Region

HE HAD TOLD OF PERIL

Minister's Sister in New Bedford Gets Sad News; Brother-Resides in Newton

The Brazilian revolt came home to Boston yesterday.

From the fight-rioting country came news that the Rev. Arthur Tyler, Worcester minister and former Harvard student, had been killed with his baby Marion, two and a half years old, and a nurse named Mrs. S. His wife was critically wounded.

His brother, Clinton Tyler, treasurer of the Public Electric Light Co. of Boston, lives at 52 Highgate rd., West Newton.

The tragedy came in a telegram from headquarters of the Federal South American Board of Missions to Rev. Mr. Tyler at Worcester, Mass.

Mr. Tyler's wife, Mrs. S. Tyler, was a nurse in the Brazilian army.

Except to state that the victim met death in the fighting near Jurniers, the telegram did not give the date or the particular circumstances of the deaths.

Mrs. S. Tyler said she had been visiting her brother in Jurniers and expressing her love for the men there.

She said she was a nurse in the Brazilian army.

Another message from New York City to Mr. Tyler, who is a resident of the Union, at attributing the deaths to an automobile accident.

Mrs. S. Tyler discounted this with the statement that her brother's death was a result of a bullet wound.

During the war he served at Camp Devens and overseas with the 78th Division.

She said she was a nurse in the Brazilian army.

Without completing his course, however, he went to Chicago to study in the University of Chicago.

After service with the Strategic Air Command, he was assigned to Paraguay, leaving America in May.

Mr. Tyler, who then was Miss Ethel M. Carter, preceded him by four months in a few days.

He had been visiting his brother in Jurniers and expressing her love for the men there.

Gov.-Elect Ely Confers This Week With Party Leaders

POWERS FOR NEXT 2 YEARS TO BE OBTAINED

Sen. Walsh, Curley, Fitzgerald, Donahue and Others to Attend Parley

PATRONAGE IS PROBLEM
Many Clamor After 14 Lean Years for the 80 Important Posts to Be Filled

By HERNARD J. DOHERTY
Gov.-Elect Joseph B. Ely of Westfield will hold important conferences in Boston this week with party leaders, preparatory to assuming the reins of government on January 8.

HOST OF AFFILIATES.

HOOPER PUTS CONFLICT OF INTEREST BEFORE VOTERS

President, in Radio Address, Deplores It as Greatest Waste in Business

Washington, Nov. 8 (AP)—President Hoover said tonight in a radio address that the greatest waste in business is the conflict of interest.

Speaking from the White House, he addressed over international radio the employees of the U. S. House of Representatives assembled at banquets in six nations of the globe—United States, Canada, England, Spain, South Africa and Mexico.

Howard Heinz, resident of the country, is an old friend of the President.

"Wars between nations, wars between groups within nations, industrial conflicts, all end in what is the greatest waste in business—the conflict of interest," he said.

"The battle has been forgotten, and when the human nature of both sides meets in cheerful agreement upon a common solution," Mr. Hoover said.

NEEDLESS SUFFERING.
"Industrial conflict is the greatest waste in business. It is not only waste, production and distribution are hampered, but the results are inflicted upon the lives and spirits of men and women."

Mr. Hoover said that the need for a common solution is the need for a common solution.

Builder Attacked by Berlin Newswriter When He Delays Flight for Storm

By KARL L. VON WIEGAND
Special Correspondent Aboard the DO-X for the Transatlantic Flight.

(Copyright, 1930, by New York American, Inc., throughout the world. All rights reserved.)

Amsterdam Aboard the DO-X, Nov. 8.—I am convinced that no other flying boat was ever built with as high a percentage of safety factors as this.

This was Dr. Claude Dornier's answer tonight in a violent attack made upon him by a Berlin dispatch to a London newspaper, called to his attention by the commander of the huge plane, waiting for the weather to clear in that they can start it on the second stage of its projected transatlantic flight in Calicut air, Southampton.

The hope of today was postponed because of storms in the English channel and North Sea.

CHARGE LACK OF TESTS.
Dr. Dornier's protest was charged Dr. Dornier's criticism of the ship of his aviation and those aboard without having made more than 15 fair weather test flights.

Dr. Dornier refused to make the tests of seaworthiness demanded by the London newspaper, and was jeopardizing the prestige of his aviation company by the possibility of carrying out the flight.

Dr. Dornier admitted that the sea tests were not made, but that the insurance companies had been refused, first, because of the storm, and secondly, because the tests were not made.

Partial State Relief of Jobless Judged a Model for U. S.

PULPITS BACKS N. E. UNITS IN NATIONAL PLAN

Woods' Assistant Says Commonwealth Has Blazed Trail in Unemployment Crisis

CONFERS WITH GOVERNOR

After Visit Monday to R. I. He Will Go to Maine, Vermont, and New Hampshire

By BEAT FORD

A direct look-up between the Massachusetts Emergency Committee on Unemployment and President Hoover's committee was accomplished yesterday.

William Phillips, Beverly, first United States minister to Canada, established headquarters in the State House at New England business offices for the national unemployment committee.

Mr. Phillips' first action after his arrival from Washington, conferred with Governor Allen and later with the governor's committee, of which James J. Phelan is chairman.

He was so impressed with the program suggested by the Massachusetts committee that he immediately telegraphed Arthur Woods, chairman of the Hoover committee, that any state doubtful as to its participation in the drive to provide jobs would be benefited by adopting the Bay State plan.

APPROVES STATES PLAN

Features worked out by the Massachusetts committee, which Mr. Phillips thought constructive and practical, were the approval of the officials in every city and town in the state to organize emergency sub-committees to cope with local conditions and to cooperate with the state committee and the plan of conferring with leaders in every major line of industry.

Mr. Phillips' assignment is to lead the intergroup survey of conditions in New England and similar surveys in the other New England States and to report to the Hoover committee.

"I find that Massachusetts is the only state in the Union," Mr. Phillips said, "where the governor's committee, the state plan of relief of unemployment and its implementation are all in one."

USIS STATE AS MODEL

"Massachusetts was the first state in the Union to take up this important work and every other state has followed its lead. The program it has outlined, and the fact that it shall recognize the state plan of relief, is a model which all other states should follow."

Mr. Phillips said that the Massachusetts committee of which he is chairman, and which is made up of representatives of the clergy, business, labor, and education, will take about 10 days, at the completion of which he will make a report to Col. Woods' committee in Washington.

HELP OF ALL NEEDED

"This is a work in which every corporation, organization, firm and individual can help. We seek the aid of benevolent, charitable and social welfare organizations."

Mr. Phillips was told by members of the Massachusetts emergency committee of the plan put in operation the past week of calling on leaders of big industries, railroads, manufacturers, pulp, textile and other lines for personal suggestions and pledges.

These leaders in various lines are asked by the Massachusetts committee that emergency work be done at once to meet the unemployment or to insure retention of full time work.

20,000 Jobless in Chicago Are Registered

Chicago, Nov. 8.—Chicago's largest region of unemployed—a cross-section of artists, professionals, industrial labor—marched 300,000 strong into 300 public housing areas and registered their needs that Governor Emerson's unemployment commission might work out their relief.

Every age, from the 13-year-old lad in lattered trousers and straw sneakers—nothing more to the white haired, bowed-old man of solidly bearing, who was regarded from Ben Hur days in Germany was there.

There Are Now 76 Children in School That Requires $150,000

By KATHERINE BROOKS

"All, Edward, Edward fall down, Run!"

His papa, "Clap your hands."

Edward obeys. In turn he walks hopelessly behind his chair, bows and bows again, and bows again.

And not one word of that comical does he hear.

Edward is 4. He is one of the pupils at the Beverly School for the Deaf, now celebrating the fifth anniversary. These children are part of the training in lip reading.

The Deaf Child's Plight

The average boy and girl in teaching school may have learned that the most important human communication—communication by speech they start even in kindergarten with this advantage. Handicapped, reading, writing and arithmetic, all are built on a basis of the spoken word.

The deaf child must begin farther back. He must learn to speak. They start with a "babble." Mary comes up to the teacher, who takes her hands and says: "Bab-bab-bab."

Mary repeats it. The teacher then strokes the child's throat, his chest, his hands, his feet, his head, his arms. To reproduce the sound, she must make those same vibrations.

GOAL POST FOOT FOLLOWS GAME

Michigan Followers Rip Up One Set but Harvard Men Recover

The battle-swept turf of Harvard stadium was the scene of a second war yesterday after Michigan had defeated Harvard, 6 to 3, and in the melee an ambitious motorcycle officer and a patrol car lost their hats, while the badge of a minor officer was stolen.

Goal posts, the level end of the stadium were ripped up by Michigan fans at the start of the game, but the greater number of Harvard coaches took the goal posts from under the feet of the Michigan and Harvard men.

Motorcycle Officer, Edward Daly of the Brighton station, slipped and lost his hat. He was halted in the jam, however, his motorcycle tipped over and his hat lost.

Tom Gilligan, former Harvard football player who was the pilot of the motorcycle officer, due him way to Daly's side and assisted him and the motorcycle out of the pile. Daly then resumed and went back to his task with other officers.

The next half was Patrick's turn. He was the first to be tackled by a Harvard player. A fullback, named Patrick, was tackled by a Harvard player. A fullback, named Patrick, was tackled by a Harvard player.

CAMBRIDGE GIRL "BORROWS" BABY TO GO FOR STROLL

A CAMBRIDGE girl, 9, who "wanted to wheel a baby," found one in an unguarded carriage in front of a Central st. store yesterday. With carriage and baby, Anthony Tannell, 2, she went for a stroll.

Young "Anthony" found the police, however. Patrolman Chazles Warnick, desk officer at Station 2, had just finished booking the report of the mother when he glanced out of a window and saw the baby, the "little mother" and the carriage go past.

He checked their progress and Capt. John J. Canney sent the "kidnaper" home to her parents after admonishing her on the dangers of promiscuous adoption of other people's infants.

ANDREE EPIC IN ADVERTISER ON SUNDAY, NOV. 16

Thrilling Details of Fatal Polar Balloon Expedition to Be Disclosed

One of the most important and moving documents in the annals of exploration has been secured for publication by the Hearst Sun-day newspapers, including the Boston Sunday Advertiser.

It is the long-awaited official narrative of the Andree Polar balloon expedition as recorded by the ill-fated aviators themselves in their diaries and other documents recently found with their bodies at the desolate camp on White Island in the Arctic, where they perished 33 years ago.

When the bodies of Salomon A. Andree and his companions, Nils Strindberg and Kent Frenkel, were discovered last August the grim mystery of their fate was solved.

But the whole dramatic story of their balloon flight, their terrible wanderings over the ice floes, their desperate battle for life that "came to a tragic close on White Island" all this remained to be told.

This remarkable story is revealed in the diaries and other writings of Andree and Strindberg which they left behind when they died.

Under the auspices of the Swedish government these documents were turned over to the Swedish Society of Anthropology and Geography in Stockholm. A committee of the society's eminent scientists has deciphered the diaries and other records and reconstructed the whole story of the lost expedition.

This official narrative is now revealed as an imperishable saga of such courage against hopeless odds—the greatest of all the epics of Arctic exploration. Publication of this thrilling narrative told by Andree and Strindberg, for which the world has been waiting, will begin exclusively in the March of Events section of the Boston Sunday Advertiser on November 16 and continue every Sunday thereafter until it is completed.

LOGGIE IN WHIRLWIND TOUR OF BOSTON WITH POLICE AS HOSTS

IN THE MANNER of a politician making a pre-election tour of the "winning" variety, George W. Loggie, 64, was a guest of sorts yesterday on a rather speedy and somewhat unusual tour of Boston.

But there was a difference to the way he saw the city's sights—he was a bona fide tourist. His host was the police department.

Personally conducted by detectives, Loggie made a tour of courts and police stations which was a record, police averred, both for the time limit and number of places visited.

Loggie was taken at an early hour from jail in Fitchburg, whisked to Boston, on a questioned at the Jamaica Plain station. Thence to the Roxbury court where a bad check charge was filed.

Then he was taken across the city to the Athens at station, thence to the South Boston court. There another bad check case resulted in probation.

Then he was taken to headquarters. It was found there were but more warrants in store for him—bad check charges in Winthrop, Malden, Somerville, and Providence. It was decided to give him to Winthrop first. So he was ordered held for action by that town.

HORSE IN MAD RUNAWAY ON SUMMER ST.

Scores Saved From Injuries When War Veteran Stops Animal at Washington St.

CLIMBS ONTO WAGON

Albert Grushkin of Roxbury Leaps to Steed's Back and Grasps Reins

Scores of shoppers and commuters were saved from injuries in Roxbury at day's end when Albert Grushkin of 15 Mosconia st., Roxbury, stopped a runaway horse.

As the frightened animal galloped up the street, pulling the streetcar, Grushkin, a veteran of the 10th Cavalry, climbed onto the wagon, leaped to the horse's back, grasped the bridle and halted it at Washington st.

Clouds filled Summer st. when the horse started his wild run in Lincoln st. at Church Green. Traffic Officer Edward Guey attempted to stop the animal.

Women screamed and men ran to safety as the horse sped up Summer st. dodging automobiles as deftly as though a pedestrian. Grushkin was standing in front of 80 Summer st. when he saw the mad animal.

Routed by Fire

Fires in Roxbury and Winchester Damage Dwellings

One fireman was injured and 32 persons, including 18 children, were forced to flee their homes in Roxbury and Winchester.

At 126 Harvard st., Roxbury, the children and 10 other persons were forced out when a $3000 blaze in the six-apartment block.

Ladderman, George Walker of Ladder 22, was injured at this time when he fell from a ladder while carrying a hose line up the front of the building. He was taken to City hospital suffering contusions of the back, spine and shoulder.

CHILDREN HURRIED OUT

The fire was discovered by Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Rosman and they hurried their two children from the building.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Schaffer and their four children made their way from the second floor and Max Charned led his two children from the same side of the block.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Black and two children, Mrs. Mary Goldman and her son, Edmund; Mrs. Rebecca Z. Gilman and two children, Miss Kaye Zeiman and Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Lifanoff and their four children, made their way to safety from the other half of the house.

The two-family wooden duplex house at 760 Main st., Winchester, gave firemen a stubborn battle for more than an hour.

ANTIQUEN DAMAGED

The side occupied by Edward F. Maguire, town official, was damaged from water in the fire, besides up from an overheated furnace.

Maguire and his son and daughter, Edward F. Maguire, Jr., and Alice Maguire, fled to the back of the house.

The family of John Backham next door, was also driven out. Maguire reported several valuable antiques damaged and included in the $8000 estimated loss.

TEMPERANCE ADVOCATE FOR HEARST PLAN

Congressman-Elect Arentz Believes It Would Re-Establish Respect for Law

URGES STATE OPTION

Federal Government Would Protect Districts Preferring Prohibition

SAMUEL S. ARENTZ, re-elected to Congress in Tuesday's election, yesterday issued the following statement to United Press wires commending William Randolph Hearst's temperance plan:

By SAMUEL S. ARENTZ

reno, Nev., Nov. 8. BEFORE expressing my opinion regarding Mr. Hearst's prohibition plan, permit me to say that I have always been an advocate of temperance, and by most of my friends considered a non-drinker.

I have been married 20 years, and during this period both before and since the enactment of the Eighteenth Amendment no liquor has been served in my home, hence the question of personal liberty of mine and better liquor enters not at all into the facts which have brought about a reversal of opinion in my stand regarding the Eighteenth Amendment.

Temperance Must Come

I, too, believe we made a noble experiment, but I have come to the conclusion that temperance must ultimately take the place of prohibition.

The plan advocated by Mr. Hearst is on all fours with my own, and would, if tried, re-establish respect for law, cut out the cancerous growth of corruption of public officials and suppress to a large degree a nation-wide orgy of crime which follows in the trail of the liquor traffic.

Safeguard "Dry"

The second, third and fourth items in Mr. Hearst's plan would necessarily be followed out as Congress would direct and I believe the administration of the act or acts would be as indicated. In addition to the above, every safeguard must be provided so that if any state in the Union desires to be dry, full co-operation of the federal government would be had in upholding the sovereign right of the several states.

Any difference in the plan proposed by Mr. Hearst and myself is one of detail. In principle they are the same and have for their object the re-establishment of respect for law, the advancement of the cause of temperance and the elimination of the liquor traffic with its ever accompanying crime, corruption and disrespect for our Constitution.

At Funeral

WALTER S. GIFFORD, president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. of New York, attending the funeral of Frederick P. Fish, former head of the company, in Brooklyn yesterday.

TRAIN BANDITS' SEDAN FOUND

Oakland, Cal., Nov. 8 (AP)—With a $1000 reward to spur them on—$200 for each outlaw—officers of the San Francisco Bay region spread a net today for the five men who yesterday held up and robbed a Southern Pacific mail car at Oakland. Berkeley and San Jose detectives and sheriff's deputies, aided by the State Department of Criminal Identification at Sacramento, joined in the hunt.

The sedan used by the robbers was found in Berkeley today and the University of California campus, where, presumably, it was abandoned during the night.

It was taken to a garage and three excellent fingerprints were photographed. These prints were sent to the State Bureau of Criminal Identification in Berkeley, where members of the train crew who were held at bay yesterday had indifferent success in identifying the photographs of Sacramento of persons suspected of the crime.

BROCKTON GIRL, AGED 17, TO WED ENGINEER, 51

December-May Romance Begon Over Tea Table in Marion

MARRY NEXT FRIDAY

Bride-to-Be Is High School Junior; Groom Wealthy New Yorker

Brockton, Nov. 8.—A tea table romance in Marion will result next Friday, her 17th birthday, in the marriage of Sybil Buck, junior at Brockton high school, to John Homer Wiener, 51, wealthy New York civil engineer.

They met last summer in a tea room where Miss Buck was employed during vacation, and where Wiener became a more and more frequent visitor.

COURTSHIP BY MAIL

Wiener, a widower and a railroad expert, has a summer home in Marion. When he returned to New York he continued his courtship by mail and finally gained consent of Miss Buck's mother to the marriage.

The girl is the daughter of Mrs. Frank Cameron of 21 Hampton ave. Her stepfather is a member of the fire department.

According to Sybil's mother the girl left school yesterday to prepare for her wedding, which will take place at room next Friday in the rectory of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, with the Rev. David H. Matthews, rector, officiating.

Miss Buck has been an accompanist student at Brockton high school, and last year won a speaking prize. She also has written several plays for the school dramatic club.

GO TO SOUTH AMERICA

The couple will be attended at the wedding by the girl's mother, stepfather and grandmother, Mrs. Annie Jensen of New York, through whom Sybil obtained the tea room position that opened the way to her romance.

After the wedding, Wiener and his girl bride will go to 1 house in Marion until after Christmas, and then start on a wedding trip of three months to South America.

JOHN CITIZEN'S SHIRTS SAFE IN LAUNDRIES NOW

Chemists Find What Makes the Collars Fray in Winter and Have Remedy

"Look what that laundry has done to my new shirt!"

The common comment of John Clifton, made on the occasion of viewing frayed collar edges of a new garment, is not to be repeated. The occasion for such utterances will not occur again.

Chemists spent three years of research on the frayed shirt in New England laundries and yesterday, at the fall meeting of the Massachusetts Laundry Owners' Association at the Copple-Place, the results of their inquiry into cause and the remedy were placed before the laundry owners.

Frayed edges of new garments resulting from laundering, are termed "winter damage" by laundries. They occur mostly in the winter time and were more prevalent in New England than elsewhere in the nation.

BLAME IS FIXED

Frayed edges of new garments resulting from laundering, are termed "winter damage" by laundries. They occur mostly in the winter time and were more prevalent in New England than elsewhere in the nation.

Three years ago, in response to an appeal of the National Laundry Owners Association, the bureau of standards of the Department of Commerce sent a group of chemists into New England to find the cause of "winter damage" and a means to stop it. They worked in many laundries in the six states and found that they were after.

Laundries had paid large sums for damage that resulted from no fault of their own, the chemists found.

The cause of frayed edges on new garments in New England water is too pure. It contains no neutralizing salt to offset sulphurous acids in the air and these acids become sulphuric acid when oxidized by oxygen. The acid eats the cloth.

REMEDY IS FOUND

The reason collars are chiefly affected is because a shirt is hung to dry by the tail and the water containing the acid runs down into the collar.

The reason winter is the time of greatest damage is because oxidizing of the acid occurs mostly in dull cool weather.

Edward L. Travers of Souverville, president of the Massachusetts association, placed the remedy for the condition before members of the organization. It is a chemical treatment to the final result to destroy the acid.

Hereafter John Citizen may say: "Look how that nice laundry is treating my new shirt with calcium chloride, sodium borohydride, methyl red indicator solution, etc."

Several of the students of the Fenway institution were in maid dress-nuffs for the occasion.

"JIMMY," a resident of Theodora House, Roxbury, maintained by the Volunteers of America for needy mothers who otherwise would be separated from their children.

Volunteers of America Look After the Children While Their Mothers Work

"NEED mothers and children be separated?" This is the slogan of Theodora House, Out Roxbury way, a fine old stone mansion with lofty ceilings, hand-carved woodwork and great folding doors dividing the main rooms. It is the home maintained by the Volunteers of America for the express purpose of keeping families together.

The day nursery was established to meet this need. Theodora House is a step ahead of the day nursery. It has been divided into small apartments, steam-heated, with modern sanitary and plumbing appointments.

Info one of these mothers may move her few household belongings and bring her children. For the time being she can call it "home." The children's families have found place there. There is a large dining room, attractively furnished, with small tables, one to a family.

The children are thus under the supervision and personal care of their mothers as much as possible. When the mother has become settled and accustomed to the ways of the house, she is aided to find a permanent employment.

She may then go out daily to work, with the comforting assurance that her children are being carefully looked after in her absence.

BEST PLANE AT FRAMINGHAM IS SMASHED

"Swede" Parker Drops a Wheel at the Meet, Propeller Is Snapped Off, 5000 WATCH STUNTS

Parade, Races and Flying Show Included in Gould Airport Exercises

The smallest ship at the meet and one of the best fliers present came to grief yesterday in the sky when the propeller of a biplane crashed at the Gould airport in Framingham.

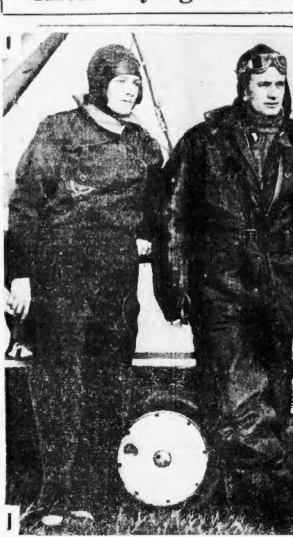

Lewis ("Swede") Parker, a 34-year-old American, landed the 30-horsepower motor, landed the propeller and was taking back to the line when one wheel of the plane dropped into a hole.

The ship nosed over, the propeller broke in two, and the plane rolled over on its side. The pilot was unhurt.

Among the other exercises at the Gould airport yesterday were a parade of the local flying clubs, a race between a biplane and a motor car, and a stunt show by the "Swede" Parker.

WOMAN'S PLANE ROLLS INTO MUD

Mrs. Margaret Vane's first solo flight yesterday at Boston Airport held a bit of excitement for her when her third landing was made too close to the edge of the airfield and her ship rolled off into the mud.

In the 15-mile air race "Denny" Duggan of Boston rolled in first in 7 minutes 40 seconds. Second place was won by Charles Paine of Weston, in a 15-mile air race, in 10 minutes 30 seconds. Paine's plane rolled off into the mud.

Alfred DeJardin of Clinton crashed his plane in the mud after a 15-mile race. The plane rolled off into the mud.

ONE WOMAN FLIER

A one-woman show was put on by Miss Olga Matthews of Boston in 7 minutes 40 seconds. She was the first woman to fly at the Gould airport in Framingham.

On Saturday's arrival, he and George Watkins and Harold Banks staged a reunion. They were the first of the contestants at the 1921 air meet in Providence.

ELIOT HOUSE TO OPEN NEXT YEAR

Bliss House, largest of the new houses constructed at Harvard University under the house plan, will be ready for occupancy next September. It was announced yesterday, when plans of the house were released.

The new house, named for Charles William Eliot, president from 1869 to 1909, will be Georgian style, approximately 18,000 square feet, and will be of brick and limestone, with a tower to balance the Dunster House tower.

Centenarian Dead

Norrahann, Sweden, Nov. 8.—Mrs. Signa G. Abrahamson, 100, believed to be Sweden's oldest inhabitant, died here.

Does your child catch cold easily?

Children who catch cold easily have sore throats or tonsillitis are usually in a weakened, run-down condition.

Because they do not secure from their food the vitamins necessary for growth, they become weak, thin and pale. They cannot hold their own at school or play, they tire easily and do not have the strength to resist disease.

If your child is facing the winter in a half-fit, run-down condition, start with Father John's Maltine at once. Countless mothers have proved its merit. 184 hospitals and institutions use it regularly.

Father John's Maltine is a combination of cod liver oil with other valuable ingredients that brings to your child the vitamins so necessary for growth and strength. Because of this scientific preparation it is easily assimilated by even the most delicate stomach.

Children thrive on it amazingly. You will be surprised how your child will pick right up. Pale cheeks glow with health and strength. Troubles fall out. Weight is added. Bones become strong, muscles hard. The child becomes vigorous and healthy.

Father John's Maltine is a simple food medicine that contains neither drugs nor alcohol. It could not harm even an infant. Just ask your druggist.

Planes Could Have Been Refueled

Ships Aloft Maintain Constant Radio Communication With the Ground Stations

The JOINT Army-Navy radio stations by air in theoretical defense of Boston Harbor in time of war were completed yesterday. An Army NRE down from Mitchell field, L. L. by Lieut. August W. Kline, maintained communication with the Charlestown Navy T-4 ground station and the Army base station. Lieut. Lindsay B. Hall was radio operator.

The radio set of the Navy plane furnished by the Squantum base was out of order, making impossible for the Navy to make its joint flight. During radio instructions on Friday the Army and Navy ships communicated with each other, as well as with the ground station.

Yesterday the Army plane reported the effect of theoretical artillery fire at blockading ships outside the harbor. The signal of the boats in the harbor were told from the air. Orders to the pilot were issued by radio from the ground station.

Special code letters were employed such as would be used in time of war. War was theoretically in progress yesterday between an airplane of European powers (Hilcock) and the United States (Hilcock). The radio officer from the ground station how artillery fire should be altered for more effective results and where guns should be trained to hit enemy boats that would not be seen from the artillery base.

A second O-1E flown from Mitchell field by Lieut. Porrett G. Allen, with Radio Sgt. Wallace Williams, was taken back to that base yesterday. Lieut. Kline and Williams were taken back to that base yesterday.

A MOOSE-HUNTING trip will start from Boston airport today. A moose hunt, pilot, flew from New York to a moose hunt in the Adirondacks. The hunt will start from Boston airport today.

Another full load was taken back to New York by air after the game on the return flight of the special, a 10-motor Ford. Thirteen more passengers were brought to Boston on the regular morning run of Colonial from New York, most of them coming on for the game.

Three Vassar girls were included among the passengers on the special trip to Boston. One of them was Miss Dora du Pont of the well known family of this name. Her companions were Miss Isabelle G. Johnson and Lucette Stizen.

FLOOD IMPERILS PARIS SUBWAY

River Traffic Halted by Rampage of River Seine; Wine Warehouse Protected

Paris, Nov. 8 (AP)—Flood waters from the swollen Seine were reported seeping into the underground tracks at both the Orsay and Invalides railway stations to night, and the prefect of the department of the Seine issued instructions that police and firemen to take all precautionary measures against the disastrous floods of 1910 and 1921.

All traffic on the river has been stopped, whereas are under water on both sides of the stream and major police pumping stations began to operate this afternoon. Precautions were taken to protect the huge wine warehouses on river embankments at Ponty and heads of wine are stored.

No damage to private dwellings has been reported.

Worcester Rum Squad May Go

Worcester, Nov. 8.—The local police department may be the first in the state to shift prohibition enforcement to the shoulders of Federal authorities as a result of the repeal of the Volstead Act.

Today City Councilman J. Marshall of Ward 3 filed with the city clerk an order calling for abolition of the police liquor squad.

The liquor squad consists of a lieutenant and eight patrolmen who have been active in obtaining prosecutions against violators of the liquor laws.

The order will be presented to the City Council at its meeting Monday night, and if adopted will mean in all probability that the burden of enforcement will be on Federal agents.
